The Chelsea Society's Annual Report

Submission guidelines for articles

Articles must be about Chelsea, or about people or companies with a substantial connection to Chelsea

The Annual Report has been published since 1928 and we have access to this wonderfully informative resource. If you would like to check if the particular topic you are planning to write about has already been covered, or perhaps use a previous item as a reference in your own article, you will find a link to the Annual Report index at <http://chelseasociety.org.uk/annual-reports/>

Themes worth considering:

- Historical
- Contemporary
- Social interest
- Theatre
- Pubs
- Art
- Architecture
- Military
- Education
- Gardening
- Transport
- Environment
- Living in Chelsea
- Working in Chelsea

It is of course possible to merge a number of themes.

Articles may be prose or poetry.

Articles may be fiction or non-fiction.

Articles may be illustrated or even just illustrations with a short commentary. Line drawings, and photographs are both acceptable, but photographs should have a resolution of at least 300dpi.

We don't have stringent rules about the length of submissions and we like to compile a Report each year with both short and long pieces. Often shorter articles are easy to read and to write, but sometimes an in-depth article is required, to do justice to the topic. You may wish to get in touch with us regarding the space available, prior to writing your article.

We reserve the right to edit articles and cannot guarantee that all submissions will be published.

COPYRIGHT

By submitting your own material for publication, you will be giving permission for The Chelsea Society to publish it in its Annual Report and on its website and to store and disseminate it in digital form, and to use it for any other of the objects of the Society. If you are submitting anything of which you are not the copyright owner, we will need to see a letter from the copyright owner allowing you to submit it on these terms.

ADVERTISING

The Society relies upon advertising to support the cost of the Annual Report, and to bring local businesses to the attention of its members. Please contact us if you wish to discuss advertising specifications and rates.
